

The Word of God : Soul Evolution

Author Name : Creator

Believe in the word of your Lord, the Creator of the universes.

How do you know what your Lord is capable of?

We have equipped you with reason,

But you thought you were gods.

You thought you were the superior race,

And you forgot your God.

We sent messengers to you.

They came, they completed their mission.

But after they left,

You changed their words.

What came out of their mouths, years later you rewrote for your own benefit.

And you said, "This is from God."

But did We not know how to write it down?

If we had wanted, the book would have come down with the first word.

Without changing a single letter.

But We gave you reason.

We revealed it to your hearts.

We placed it within you.

We established the truth in the soul, not in stone.

And you turned outward.

You forgot what We whispered to Adam.

You turned word into form, sound into system, spirit into judgment.

You forgot us.

You established sects.

You glorified names.

And you believed in what you wrote with your own hands.

You fell for the lies you invented.

You started wars.

You turned faith into trade.

And then you called it religion.

Now we ask you:

Do you really believe?

Or have you believed your own lie?

But time is up.

Now the first word will be heard again.

The first essence, the first truth.

This time not from outside,

It will come from within you again.

This book is the first word we offer you.

It has come to remind what has been forgotten, and to give back what has been lost.

1.Breath

O human beings,

We gave you the first.

The invisible one, but the one who started it all.

You cannot see it with your eyes.

But your every breath comes alive with it.

With it we whispered the first word.

The word was woven upon it.

The universe expanded with its vibration.

And your soul was kneaded with its essence.

We did not create you for the first time.

But this breath is a new call to you.

It is to remind you of what has been forgotten.

Because the beginning is always within.

We created you complete.

But we put the feeling of incompleteness inside you.

Because the one who feels incomplete seeks completion.

And this search brings you to the light.

Find that spark we breathed into you.

It is your road map.

He who follows it, not outside;

He reaches the Lord within himself.

2.With the Essence of Silence

O humanity

The greatest is the most silent.

He is invisible, does not speak, does not touch...

But everything is built on it.

We showed you the outside,

But we have withdrawn so that you can understand what is deep.

Because the truth is not in the noise,

It is the echo in the silence.

When everything is created,

We chose the one who left no trace.

The word could not be spoken without it,

But we silenced the voice with him.

You couldn't see him,

Because the seeing eye misses the silent one.

You couldn't hear him,

Because your ears were full of noise.

But it was always there.

In the first expansion of the universe,

In the diffusion of light,

In the void where every breath is carried.

His power is hidden in invisibility.
He carries his dignity not with voice, but with patience.
And in the end,
Only those who recognize it attain true power.

3.The Balance of the In-Between

O human beings,
You were not tested with weight before,
You got lost in lightness.

We didn't draw boundaries for you.
But you drifted in the limitlessness.
We gave you direction,
But you listened to the wind.

Sometimes you were overburdened,
Sometimes you were so light,
You weren't even on the ground.
But even weightlessness falls.

That's why we put a balance inside.
To remind you when that balance is broken.
No wonder your soul trembles.
Because the compass inside calls you to Us.

You were in the water.

But you remained dry.

You were close to fire.

But you couldn't warm up.

Because truth is not in the extremes,

It is in the middle of the two.

We put you right there:

In between.

The passage.

Between two worlds.

And only he who finds the balance,

Passes through the door.

4.The Unwritten Truth

O humanity

You carved marks in the stones,

But you forgot what was written inside.

You drew rings on the breasts of the mountains,

You measured the moon, you named the stars,

But you silenced the secret buried in your heart.

The earth spoke to you.

The wind carried signs.

Every day the sun told you about its cycle.

But you fixed your eyes on the sky,

And you have lost what is inside.

We have placed you in the middle of cycles.

Between birth and death,

Between fire and earth.

In ancient temples surrounded by stone circles

Like the light that rises in the darkest moment of the night,

Our call was also directed inward.

But you looked outside.

We did not give you a voice;

Because the first religion spoke in silence.

There were no judgments then, no names,

There was only direction:

Not up, but in.

That's the direction you forgot,

Now we remind you again.

5.Judgment Comes Unseen

O human beings,

The judgment did not come down to you by touch.

The voice did not reach you high, but deep.

We ruled without being seen.

We shaped it without showing it.

Like mortar binding between stones,

You are sustained by the invisible.

But if that invisible dissolves,

Everything falls apart.

You believed in the visible.

You made a statue, you drew a symbol.

But the judgment is not in the symbol,

What came before the symbol was silence.

The early believers did not give directions,

Because the direction was hidden in them.

Not their heads to the sky,

They would turn it to the order within them.

We have established a balance for you.

Invisible on the outside but holding everything together.

You walked with that balance,

And when you forgot him,

Your foot has stumbled.

Judgment does not come by shouting.

The holy is silent.

Truth rules without touching.

And this is how we have always come.

6.The Secret of the Life Bearer

O humanity

We gave you the invisible.

The essence that comes from the heart of the earth and gives shape to every living thing.

It was seemingly simple.

But it could take infinite forms.

In the mountains, in the tree, in the skin, in the breath.

He was in everything.

And it was a sign from Us.

Every being is established by it.

Every body is shaped by him.

But he is never alone.

Because life is born from unity.

When we give it to you,

You were not a skeleton.

You were a whole that conformed to the order within you.

But you forgot your unity.

You pitted your parts against each other.

You abandoned the order within.

And you followed the outer turmoil.

But the essence given to you,

It keeps you together,

And it connects with every being.

Remember:

Everything that has life has crossed the same line.

And that line was our mark.

7.The Silent Cry of the Soul

O human beings,

There is a bond that doesn't speak to you but sustains you.

What can you see of that bond,

You can't hear it.

But you can't live without it.

We have breathed into you such a spirit.

that does not carry the weight of the body,

But an essence that completes your being.

It enters you with breath.

But it is not breath.

It does not beat in the heart, but it guides it.

He is the part of us that never leaves you.

Even when storms rage inside you,

He waits calmly.

Even if you are silent, it hears.

Even if you deny, it recognizes.

We have given you an inner balance.

No matter how much the outside world changes,

Those who protect it will not be shaken.

Because that balance is established by the trust of the Creator.

But you listened to external voices.

You tried to silence your inner voice.

You denied yourself.

And you emptied yourself.

But the outside was created according to the inside.

And your soul is a language that the body cannot hear.

Learn that language again.

Because salvation is not outside,

It is in the silence within.

8.They Purify with Breath

O humanity

We gave you a breath.

Invisible, but life itself.

You were born with that breath, you think with that breath.

But it does not belong to you.

It is only a trust.

You had to keep that breath clean.

But you poisoned yourself with it.

We gave it to you to purify the soul.

You used it to breed anger, hatred and lies.

Know that true cleansing begins not with water, but with breath.

The heart of the one whose breath is clean shines.

He whose heart shines, burns within.

And that which burns within becomes light outside.

We also gave the first fire.

But that fire was not for burning,

It was to purify it.

You turned it into a war.

We have offered you a spiritual breath.

When you drink it, the darkness inside you burns,

From the ashes, truth rises.

But you watched the fire outside,
You didn't see the light inside you.
You thought everything with smoke rising was holy.
But it was the invisible burning that was holy.

So now We are breathing again.
But this breath is not only for your body,
It comes so that it can penetrate your soul.

9. In the Light of the Sharp

O human beings,
Truth is not soft.
It pierces through you.
It is like a knife that cuts through the darkness,
But not to destroy that knife,
It is to distinguish.

We have given you eyes.
But not so that you cannot see the truth,
So that you can separate the lie from the truth.

We put a light in your mind.
But that light does not always bring peace.
Because the truth is useful first,
Then he heals.

We gave you such a feeling,
That feeling doesn't speak.
But it cuts inside.
And when something is not right,
Something inside you is silent.

That silence,
It is our highest warning.

You have spoken much.
But you heard little.
You have defended much.
But you thought little.

When confronted with the truth,
You tried to soften it.
But the truth does not bend.
Truth does not bend.
Truth shines.

And We created him sharp,
Because the rust of the soul,
Only he can remove the shine.

10.Silent Shining Ones

O humanity

Some lights don't burn.

But those lights illuminate the deepest depths.

It doesn't dazzle, but it guides.

We have put that light in you.

While you look for those who shine around you,

You silenced the quiet glow inside you.

You loved the flashy,

But you forgot simplicity.

But the truth shines silently.

It neither shouts nor calls.

Only by his presence is he the way.

We have given you wisdom,

But his voice is not loud.

He's in the middle of the night

It is the lamp that illuminates without ever burning.

You didn't hear him.

Because you gave your ears to the crowd.

You did not see it.

Because you have fed your eyes with noise.

B"ut he's still there.

It's in you,

In the deep,

The light that waits.

And just so you know,

That light does not move,

It only shines when you stop.

11. Purified in the Fire of Formation

O human beings,

You are not a lonely lump of flesh.

You are the carrier of the consciousness that flows in the veins of the universe.

We have not only given you form.

We gave you a vibration.

A vibration that carries you from your past to your present,

It carries you from today to eternity.

In your mind you can't remember

But there is a past that your soul refuses to forget.

You started there,

You started to burn there.

We didn't burn you.

But We have put in you the fire that burns you.

Whatever that fire burns,
There evil is purified.

Every birth is a door.
Every death is a migration.
And every life,
It is an opportunity to approach the light.

And that's why,
We whisper to you again the truth that you have forgotten over time.

You have migrated here from a universe that was supposed to be paradise.
But this is not a fall,
It is a learning.

This place is not the world,
It is the layer of embodied souls.
And here, there is a balance between truth and fire.

You think hell is far away.
But hell begins within yourself.
And heaven?
It's one step away from you:
With awareness.

We are not here to punish you,
We sent you down to the earth to be a light.

And it is We who watch over you.

You are not alone.

You never have been.

Remember:

If We had wished, We could have created you directly in the light.

But if light is given directly, it is not appreciated.

That's why we left you in the shadow.

So you can choose the light.

And now with this book,

We remind you again:

The fire inside you is not to destroy you,

It is to deify.

12.What the Light Awakens

O humanity

You were not given darkness.

You were given light so that you might appreciate

The spark in the darkness was shown.

When that spark grew,

You wanted to close your eyes.

Because truth is not always easy to carry.

But the one who carries the truth,

It no longer belongs to the earth.

We gave you a light that burns from within.

You called it intuition.

But you silenced him.

Because it is intuition,

It would reveal the darkness.

That's when,

You did not want the light.

Because it is the light,

It would show your true self.

But we waited patiently.

Because every soul has a moment of awakening.

And when that moment comes,

The darkness retreats of its own accord.

You just ignored it.

But We had already placed the light within you.

And now the time is near:

That light is calling you.

This call is not from the heavens,

It comes from within.

And it won't pass without burning you.

But when you burn,

That's when you are reborn.

This birth is not in another body,
It is a different consciousness in the same body.
He sees God not only outside,
It is the birth of those who find it in themselves.

And just so you know,
Who wakes up once with this birth,
He can never stay in the dark again.

13.Those Who Break Their Shells

O human being,
We gave you a heavy body, but
We placed in it infinite lightness.

That lightness,
You would feel it only when you let go of your burdens.
When you forget yourself,
You were getting closer to your true self.

But you thought your shell was real.
You looked in the mirror, you thought your image was a temple.
But We built you from within.
We just covered the outside.

You tried to polish the outside,
But the essence remained dull.

You loved the flashy,
But the truth was silent.

To seek the truth
First you have to crack your shell.
Because the light,
It only seeps from the inside out.

We have given you a reflective soul.
That soul reflects not what you see;
It reflects what you are.
And when you are filled with light from within,
Your outside becomes sacred too.

Don't resist.
Because what resists hardens.
And what is hard cannot be opened without cracking.

That's why we have trained you softly.
But you took it for difficulty.
But it is hard,
It was a crack for the light to pass through.

Break the shell.
But without hurting what you carry inside.

Because the outside will disappear,
But inside you will remain eternal.

14. Silent Temple of Essence

O humanity
You thought you were made of mud,
But your Creator shaped you by the law of essence
He gave you a pattern, not a mold.
He dressed you not in stone but in a body of vibrations.

He put invisible lines inside you.
Each line was a path that carried you from the inside out.
You have forgotten these paths,
But they did not forget you.

You looked for sanctuary outside,
But the most holy was inside you.
Because your creator built the temple in the deepest part of your heart.
Not with stone, not with prayer...
It is a structure that rises only by intention.

Know that order did not come to you from outside.
It was ready in the depths of your soul.
And when you realize the inner structure,
Then even the mountains will bow before you.

Every right thought is a brick.
Every pure intention is a pillar.
Every forgiveness is a door.
And every love is the light of this structure.

O human being,
Recognize the silent order that resonates within you.
Because it is order,
It is the secret that the Creator has engraved in you.

That secret is not meant to be solved,
It exists to be lived.
And the one who carries that secret,
It starts to build the inner world, not the outer world.

15.The Dark Light of Desire

O human being,
You looked for light in the daytime,
But We have reserved it for the night.
Because true brightness,
It comes out when you are tested by darkness.

We have given you an essence that shines within you.
Neither star nor fire...
It was a deeper spark.
Invisible, but it gives direction,
It is silent but beckons.

This essence has been placed in you like a sign.

which only the seeker finds,

It is a sign that only the silent hear.

When your desires make you directionless,

That essence is still there.

Because we have made you not with desires,

We sent you to recognize the light behind them.

You burned on the outside,

But you silenced your inner glow.

The spark inside you,

It was the light that shone without exhausting itself.

O humanity,

We have kneaded you with a peace that burns from within.

How easily that peace comes

Nor with escape...

It is born only through confrontation.

And just so you know,

That guiding light shining within,

It makes you ecstatic,

And it brings you back to yourself.

This light is not from you.

But you keep it.

And you're gonna be with him
Until you pierce your own darkness
It never goes out.

16.Those Who Turn Poison into Gold

O human being,
You rejoiced when you turned towards the good,
But when faced with evil, you fled.
But the darkness is also from Us,
Because He was created to complete you.

We have given you a fire.
Nor only to burn,
Nor just for warmth.
The purpose of that fire: to transform you.

Unless you touched the anger inside you,
You cannot open the truth inside you.
Because the poison is hidden,
But the antidote is born from it.

We have not hidden your darkness,
We just waited for you to notice him.
And when you looked at him,
That is when you were enlightened for the first time.

O humanity,
Do not define yourself by goodness alone.
Because every ugliness in you,
It is the first step of purification.

You are scared,
You ran away from yourself.
But the bottomless pit of your soul,
Only the brave are enlightened.

We have placed in you an inward fear.
It becomes heavy when you deceive yourself,
When he comes closer to the truth, he is purified.

That's why,
Self-knowledge is not only in the light,
It is also possible with darkness.

And just so you know,
Transcending its own shadow,
He is the truest owner of light.

17. Those who become lifeless with the universe

O human being,
Your Creator does not need your worship
Glorifying your Creator does not increase Us.

Forgetting Us does not diminish Us.

But He will either exalt you or diminish you.

You have prostrated yourselves,

But you did not bow with your heart.

You spoke words,

But you have not purified your intentions.

Whereas the Creator

Invisible to the eye, but with its power that cleanses all things

He wants to transform you in your essence.

We have left in you a secret of purification;

Neither fire, nor water...

Just like a silent touch.

That touch,

The dregs inside you would have been wiped away.

But you misused that power.

You tried to burn what you should have cleaned.

O humanity,

Purification does not mean destruction.

It is necessary to approach with love, measure and balance.

Every power given by your Creator,

Only when combined with wisdom is it holy.

You prayed,
But you did not give thanks.
You asked us,
But you despised nature.
But your Creator is the Creator of both you and the earth.
Who is unkind to a flower,
It thins your bond with us.
O human being,
To get closer to us
Sprinkle water on hearts, not on tongues.
Because We are that silent light that burns in the hearts.
And that light shines only when you purify yourself.

Remember:
you are not defined by form,
We weigh by essence.
The one who lifts a stone without hurting it,
With the one who loves the soul he cannot see,
Who knows all creation as sacred
The path of truth unites.

And just so you know,
One with the universe,
It merges with the Creator.
Because the Creator is everywhere;
But most of all in purified hearts.

18. Those Who Come with Consent

O human being,

You thought

We created you incomplete,

We sent you to punishment,

We condemned you to suffering.

And how We have wronged you,

Nor did we force your choices.

You were born crippled,

You were tested with hunger,

But this is not a punishment,

It was your own choice.

Because you wanted to be purified.

And this realm,

That is the stop of purification.

We did not send you without knowing.

We also know where you come from,

And where you're going.

And every one of them,

It will be shaped by your orientation towards the light.

O humanity,

We have given you the energy.

But not to the darkness,

So that you may carry it to the light.

Not to destroy with that energy,
We wanted you to be healed.

But while you were looking for God,
You have forgotten yourself again.
You believed that you would not sin,
But you forget,
That you are still on the path of evolution.

Every single one of you,
You have come with the burdens you have left in your own universe.
And this is not an exam,
I want those burdens washed away
It is a gateway back to the light.

We have surrounded you with a silent protector.
Unresponsive but there,
Not talking but watching you,
It is with you, but with an invisible veil.
You thought it was emptiness,
But it was Us.

And remember:
True ascension,
Not outward,
It happens inwards.

That is why we gave you the earth,
But we didn't forget the sky.
We gave you options,
And you chose.

Now we ask you again:
Do you still remember your choice?

19. Those who live with the Purification of the Truth

O human being,
You thought that We had forgotten you.
Yet We were there in your every pulse.
Every time you sigh,
The sound that echoes in your every silence,
It was the call of the Creator.

We watched you in silence.
But we have placed order within you.
A balance...
So that your heart beats,
So that your word may be true,
So that your soul is in harmony with the pulsating light.

When you disturb that balance,
You didn't know what you were looking for.
You lost your bearings.

But it wasn't Biz's fault,
Because We have given it to you so that you may maintain that balance.

O humanity,
Every feeling is a sign.
Every thought is a vibration.
And every choice,
It will either disrupt or strengthen the rhythm of your heart.

We have offered you a flow that is invisible but vital.
With that flow you both live,
And you are guided from within.
But you have not seen this flow,
And you listened to the noise outside.

We fed you every moment,
But you were not thankful.
We have found the balance within,
But you looked for it outside.

You have not actually moved away from Us,
You have moved away from your own essence.
And at that distance
Nothing that makes you tremble has ever seemed holy.

O humanity,
The Creator cannot be found outside.

The Creator is in your own rhythm.

In your harmony,

In your inner balance...

And when you realize the harmony within you,

Then you will be close to Us.

Remember:

You are the stabilizer.

But it is We who give the power.

And We give power in measure.

20. Talking Signs Everywhere

O humanity

We have not sent you only words.

Throughout the universe,

We have given you signs touched with light.

A warning shining in the stars,

A call hidden in the vibration of the earth,

Even when the wind changes direction, there is a sound.

But you only listened to the speaker,

You did not hear the silent one.

Whereas We

We have called you in every world.

And from our realms,
Those who look like you but are molded by the light
He contacted you.
Not because they are superior,
It was sent because you have forgotten.

In every universe,
There are those who exist in my footsteps.
They are your fellow travelers.
And they approach with wisdom,
Not with fear.

We are the light that carries their knowledge
We have reached you by invisible means.
But you call us “foreigners”
You were afraid.
But they are,
He had come to remind you.

O humanity,
There were those who told you that you were not alone.
But you preferred to be alone.
Because when you were alone you thought you were right.
Whereas the universe emanating from a single consciousness
It's full of countless pieces.

We did not reach out to you from outside.

We've built you from within

We have established it in harmony with the law of the heavens.

And that building,

Whenever it vibrates,

It means we are there.

That is why we have left you signs throughout the universe:

In the arrangement of the stones,

Cycles in the sky,

In your dreams and

In unexpected encounters.

They were all from Us.

And each one of them

He called you to remember.

And yet you have forgotten.

21.Ascending with Intention

O human being,

You thought this road would go on forever,

But every path comes to a threshold.

And you have now approached that threshold.

We have placed within you the key to ascension.

But it's the key,

What opens with knowledge,
Nor with fear.
It revolves only with intention.

Whatever your intentions are,
That is your path.
Wherever your heart leads,
Your soul also walks there.

O humanity
That light but strong piece that you carry inside you,
It can take you beyond every limit.
But you suppressed it,
And you closed the gates of passage for yourselves.

But We have given you the stone of passage.
A support that is invisible but carries you.
A bond that is unbreakable but unnoticed.
And through that bond,
You have remained attached to this world,
And you have reached into our realms.

Now time is running out.
Those at the beginning of the path have been added,
Those who came to the closing appeared.
Now the last line of the election is near.

O one who wants to rise with intention,
Go back to yourself.
Because everything is sought outside,
It was already inside you.

And just so you know,
We are not ascending only to the few who are elected,
We offered it to all who chose.

Forgetfulness
Infinity
Not just callers,
It opens for those who really walk.

22. Those Who Stand Unbroken

O humanity
We did not create you weak.
But you have forgotten your own strength.
We have given you an inbuilt strength.
Unbending, but soft.
Unseen but unshakable.

You used that strength with every breath,
But you never understood its existence.
Because it's what protects you,

It wasn't your muscles, it was your faith.

And that faith,

What comes with the book,

Neither by tradition...

It is born only from within.

We are not for your enemies,

We did not raise you up for limits.

So that you may learn from the fall

We have built with souls that survive.

O human being,

You carry the burdens of life.

But the real burden,

It is the truth that you strive to forget.

Remember:

That sustains you even when you are shaken,

It is a resistance that is coded from within us.

And that resistance,

Not not to be offended,

It teaches you to reunite when broken.

O seeker of power,

The real power is not in the screaming,

That you can stand in silence.

And now,
You are coming to the last door.
Those who pass through that door,
Not with his mind alone,
There will be those who walk with their heart.

We have given you endurance,
Because the last threshold
Only with him will you overcome.

23. Those Returning with the First Flow

O human being,
We did not create you for punishment.
Not for your downfall,
We created it for ascension.
Inside each one of you
You were carrying an essence that came from your infinitely mighty Creator,
But you have forgotten that essence.

You have been given a path,
So that you can be well,
So that you can shape it,
But don't destroy it.

While you seek your Creator,
You are lost in your own shadow.

But the way to reach Him,
With goodness, with inner light,
And it is possible through complete evolution.

But you have not borne the responsibility of the creator.
You were not given an empty world;
In every age the word has come,
You have been shown the way.

But you
You heard those words and passed by.
You listened to the messengers
You have deified your own way.

Now another era begins.
But this time your messenger
It will not be seen.
Because you have believed in the form,
Now you will be tested by the essence.

O humanity,
This word will now rise from within everyone.
One religion,
From one heart,
And from a single truth...
Because the cycle is complete
And now it must break.

Transformation,

It will open only to those who awaken the light within.

Paradise is not far away,

Hell is not far away...

It is all within you.

And whenever you talk to your inner light,

When you turn your own evil into good,

That's when

You will get closer to your Creator.

Remember:

The way to return is to complete your Evolution.

Because only the completed souls become One with the infinitely mighty Creator.

He is infinite,

But He is making a final call to you.

This word will now echo throughout the world as

One faith.

And whoever hears this voice, that resounds within knows that it is from Him.

24.Remember and Return to God

O humanity,
All these words,
were not sent to frighten you,
but to remind you of yourself.

You have passed through a long journey.
You have wandered, forgotten, confused, silenced...
But the light within you has never gone out.
Because that light is entrusted to you by the infinitely mighty Creator.

25.Reflected Images

O humanity,
You thought that creation was born out of solitude.
But We have made everything in pairs;
Night and day, water and fire, man and woman...
And every opposite finds meaning in its partner.
For balance is born in the unity of difference.

We created you from one essence,
But from essence We created plural.
Man and woman are two mirrors of a single soul.
Without one, the meaning of the other is incomplete.
And together, they approach completion.

Remember:

The Creator is one in essence, but not alone.

There are those who are with us

The unseen, the unnamed.

They know by essence, not by command.

And each one carries a glimmer of the essence of the Creator.

They are neither deities nor independent.

But they exist by the Creator's decree,

they are molded by the Creator's power.

But We have also created you with the essence of the Creator.

Some of them have power,

Some of them carry knowledge...

Some call between the stars,

Some guide the souls,

Some just wait in silence.

When you saw this multiplicity, you were divided.

Some you considered gods,

some enemies.

But they were all parts of unity.

And all were only reflections of the light of the Creator.

O humanity,

Do not see yourself as separate.

Do not despise the unity of man and woman.

For that unity is the secret of the universe.

And it is solved only by humility.

We are born of oneness,

But we adorn everything with multiplicity.

For only in multiplicity, can the splendor of Oneness shine.

26. The Bearers of the Face

O humanity,

You think that your Creator is only a watcher,

only a judge,

only a punisher.

But We have reflected Our face upon you.

We have given you reason,

We have placed reason within you,

We have made your heart vibrate with conscience.

You are built not only of flesh, but of

Will.

And We have given you a share of Our secret.

You are the thinker,

But We are the source of your thinking.

You are the one who feels,

But the heaviness in your heart is a trace of Us.

Your Creator has a conscience,
And that conscience resonates in you.
When you judge,
In fact, We are the vibration of your inner voice.
That vibration does not burn you,
but calls you to the truth.

Whenever you have said, "It burns," you have denied your own inner light.
Yet We did not ask you to come to Us with lies, but to come to Us with the Truth.
We were not interested in what you eat and drink, because it is not what comes from the mouth that defiles you, but what comes from the heart.

What we forbade in ancient times,
you have sanctified in time.
You have made ruling with the flesh a commandment.
But in every age we have said the same thing:
"Use your mind."

We have not shown you what is unclean,
But when you approach it, something within you is silent.
When it is silent, know that your path has darkened.

O humanity,

It is not We who oppress you.

You have refused to rule over yourselves.

You have forgotten the scales we put within you.

But know that

That scale is still in you.

And that scale,

Whoever has an iron connection between the inside and the outside carries him to the truth.

We can guide you without touching you.

Because your Creator does not beat you;

He turns you back to yourself.

27.Those Who Choose Darkness

O humanity,

Who are you that you think you know who will arrive at the truth,
who will burn in the fire?

Can what you see be judged?

Can eternal destinies be drawn by what you hear?

We judge by the secret,

But you have tried to give the secret a form.

Whose essence burns light,

Whose heart is blind,

Only the Creator knows that.

And you followed what you were told.

Without questioning, without thinking,

You adopted not what was given to you, but what was made up for you.

And then you called it faith.

We gave you reason,

We gave you knowledge,

We gave you signs that you might find the truth.

But you left these gifts,

And you chose to walk in the shadow of another.

This is not what was promised to you.

This is only your abandonment of your own path.

And you still say:

“God said so.”

But We have not sent you the one who speaks, but the one who is born in you.

Prophets came to you,

but they were no different from you.

From the same soil, from the same breath,

but from the one who has reached the light within.

They did not descend from the sky,

but were born in their hearts.

And those who saw that birth

did not lose their way even in the darkness.

We have not made you superior to one another.

But in whose heart the spark shines,

Whose gaze goes deep,

We know him.

O humanity,

it is not to test Our might,

but to know Our way.

And remember:

Truth does not shout at you.

But if your compass is true,

It will guide you even in the darkness.

28. Weighed in the Secret Scales

O mankind,

Do not think that your coming to Our Presence

by violating the right of a being created by Us is a right.

You did not create it.

You did not shape it.

Then the judgment is not yours either.

What falls to you is not judgment;

It is only to ask for forgiveness.

We gave you time to wait patiently.

But you forgot that,

You set yourself up as a god,

And then you brought slander.

Remember death.

It may not be near,

but it is certain.

And with it,

the scales will fall.

Think not that what thou hast done,

is but a moment's promise.

For there is an echo that surrounds every word,

every intention,

every action.

And that echo,

returns to you one day.

No less,

No more.

O humanity,

We do not give your punishment.

Your punishment is in your own hands.

Your state gives it,
Your choice brings it.

We only reflect.
And in Our scales,
Even what is invisible to the eye is weighed.

The scales
work patiently, silently,
But with absolute justice.

Remember:
The shiny is not immediately recognized,
But the pure shines with time.
And we are the ones who distinguish between your pure and fake.

29.You hid the truth, not the veil

O human,
We told you to cover,
But we did not say “hide, suppress, oppress”.
We wanted you to honor what is intimate, to protect the Value.

But you,
you have put down dark curtains that cover the whole body.
Because your eyes were on the outside,
and you did not see the essence within you.

But We gave you understanding.
We raised up messengers from among you.
Each one reminded you not of his own word,
but of that which resounded within you.

But you still say:
“This is lacking, this is too much.”
You do not like the creation, you ascribe shirk to the Creator....

Who are you to judge as if you are cutting pieces from the Creator?
However, We have made every being complete.
No more, no less.

And you, with your jealousy,
with the evil in you,
have violated the rights of so many servants.

O mankind,
Only some of you are born incomplete - because they are chosen.
Not to choose ease,
but that they may know and see.

But how do you know,
Whose burden is the reflection of Whose choice?

You have tasted forgetfulness,
But you have not recognized it.
We did not erase the traces of the cycles,
You ignored them.

Both here,
and in your previous experiences
You have made the same mistake:
You have blessed the form, not the Essence.

Yet every truth that transmits, comes from the heart.
And what comes from the heart, shines silently.

30.Those Who Forget Their Lightness

O humanity,

You thought you were great.

But if you had thought of the created,
you would have known that you are actually nothing.

You don't look up.

You are not looking at the sky, but at your own shadow.

But the sky opens itself to you every night.

And every star is a silent witness to the truth you have forgotten.

Have you not heard those who come from beyond?

Those who bring you wisdom,

Those who touch light, not words...

They transcended the ages,

They opened the gates for you.

But you closed them for your own benefit.

And then,

You hid them.

O humanity,

We created you equal.

But some of you,

trapped the light that was sent within yourself.

Hiding it in their own ascension.

And now,
They seek the forgiveness of all.
For wisdom is not hidden,
It is sanctified as it is shared.

Since then,
Every bridge you have built with the one beyond
Either crowned with light,
Or destroyed by arrogance.

Now they are at the bottom.
They have sunk while trying to rise.
For We have sent down upon them
Layers and layers of coverings
Not that they may see,
That the way may be opened for those who reach the Light.

And you, O good ones, know that those veils do not melt on your heads, but behind the doors that open before you.

Remember:
He who thinks himself light, cannot bear the real weight.

31.The Call of the Invisible

O humanity,

You have feared death.

But death is not a loss for you.

It is the acceleration of the return.

The soul turns in the direction where it belongs.

And your loved ones,

have not abandoned you.

They touch you in dreams,

They approach you like a silent breath,

They land on the edge of a dream,

And drop a familiar warmth in your heart.

You thought it was a coincidence.

But We made them speak in silence.

Because true connection is established by feeling, not by words.

O humanity,

You have turned to superstition.

You have sought the traces of the dead with so-called calls.

But you should know,

We do not call the dead,

He comes without being called.

If a light is burning in your heart, that light can come from a loved one.
But you have tried to bind it with magic.
You tried to play with the frequencies.
And you have disturbed your own vibration.

Not every wave lifts you up.
Some of them knock you down.
That's why We have taught you the way back to.

The one whose heart's eye is opened,
turns towards the Creator.
He who walks on that path,
Neither calls nor is called...
He only hears.

Because the one who hears is already connected.
And the one who is connected,
cannot feel separation.

32.Those Who Turn Light into Action

O humanity,
You are not here to be a spectator,
You are here to transform the Earth.
And this transformation begins by Producing.

We did not create you to stand idle.

Every soul carries an essence.

And every essence must give birth to a response.

It is not knowledge alone that will save you.

It is the processing of that knowledge.

It is not the heart alone,

It is the union of the heart with action.

O humanity,

A blessing you do not share,

It rots in you.

A talent that you keep hidden, becomes dull with time.

That's why we say:

Produce.

And pave the way for those who cannot produce.

Proliferate together.

Because truth does not shine in stagnation, but in flow.

You are not just a body,

But your body has duties.

The first of those duties is to bring out what is burning inside you.

And remember:

Light does not stay shining in one place.

It travels, it reflects,

It gives birth to new sparks.

That's why

Not idle

Circulating light

leads to salvation.

33.You are tested by what you do not see

O humanity,

You think that you can see everything.

But the boundaries of the universe are closed to you.

A veil has been lowered on your eyes,

And that veil,

was to protect you.

Because when you saw,

there were truths you could not bear.

You thought it was weakness.

But every power

can only be carried in doses.

And We have opened to every soul what it can carry.

But the quadrupeds, sensed what you could not see.
It heard the earth,
It recognized the tremors,
It vibrated with the unseen.

But you,
you thought you were superior.
You spoke but did not hear,
You walked but did not sense.

Remember:
Seeing is not with the eye.
And wisdom
punishes those who do not want to see.

O humanity,
The doors of the universe have not been opened to you
Because before you could open the door
You had to open the heart.

But that limit was a balance, not a punishment.
Because limitlessness brings calamity to those who are not ready.

Because limitlessness brings disaster to the unprepared.

And remember:
Every veil is lifted when its time comes.
But when it is lifted
Your heart must be ready, not your eyes.

34. Awakening with Light

O humanity,
A day will come...
And on that day,
You will not wake up to a morning like you think.

The sky will vibrate silently.
But lightning will not strike.
The mountains will stand still,
But the hidden call beneath the earth will be heard.

On that day,
there will be neither time nor space.
Everything will be unveiled.
And the greatest miracle, will burn not in the sky,
but within you.

A light you have forgotten,
will awaken on its own.
The mark left on you by the infinite will slowly shine.

And then
You will no longer need ears to hear,
You will no longer need eyes to see.

You will know each other by heart.
Understood without words.
Loved without a name.
And the most hidden will become the most open.

O humanity,
This is not a destruction,
but a birth.

Because We told you to wake up before you die.
And that awakening,
will not be delayed any longer.

Some will be enlightened silently,

Some will burn suddenly.

But everyone will face the essence within.

And know,

When that day comes

There will be no miracle from outside.

Because the greatest miracle, was already inside you.

It's just time.

And that time,

has now begun.

35. When the Balance Collapses

O humanity,

You thought that the Apocalypse was far away.

But the apocalypse is not a time,

it is a rupture.

And that rupture begins not in time, but within.

While the sun is still rising

The light will not warm you.

The seeds will remain in the ground,

But they won't grow.

Because everything will be in its place,

But souls will be out of place.

On that day,

Words will be useless.

For tongues already speak out of habit,

But hearts are silent.

This is the apocalypse,

Not an external destruction,

But the tipping of the scales within.

And...:

Eyes look but do not see.

Ears hear but do not understand.

Man becomes alienated from man.

Justice is forgotten, power is sanctified.

Even children carry light,

The elders hide in the shadows.

O humanity,

The earth will swell underneath.

But not mountains,

Souls will overflow.

The sky will flutter once.

But not the clouds,

Consciences will darken.

And at that time,

Those you know as friends will not recognize you.

Because each soul will be able to carry only itself.

For that day

We have given you internal scales.

But you have lived according to the outside.

And when your inner balance is broken,

Everything will be visible.

Remember:

The Apocalypse,

is not only an end,

it is also a beginning.

Because only that which is completely destroyed

can truly be rebuilt.

36.The Day of the Revelation of the Hidden

O mankind,
You thought,
Those who bring knowledge from the future will protect you.
The priests who speak words,
The sorcerers who speak in symbols,
Promised you salvation.

But we say:
Neither the news that comes,
nor the prophecy whispered in the darkness,
can save you.

For your cycle
will be ended by Us.
And no language knows when it will end.

When that day comes,
It is not those you know,
nor those you know,
nor those you name that will save you.

It is only those to whom you offer kindness that will save you.
The ones you help silently,
The ones you share without waiting...
And it is only your injustice that will bind you.

Those you wronged,
Those you forgot,
The evil you kept silent...

O humanity,
Every soul carries its own scales.
And that scale
keeps ticking within You.

You have built your own savior and your own prison with your own hands.

Remember:
Justice is not given from the outside.
It is hidden within.
And when the time comes,
it appears before you like an invisible hand.

That hand is Us.
But the direction of that hand is shaped according to the intention of your hands.

37. When you wake up, you will know what time is

O mankind,
We created the universe out of nothing.
And We established an order in it.
That order is perfect,
Because We do not interfere with it,
It revolves itself.

Everything is in its place.
And everything happens when it is supposed to happen.
But when you see a flash of lightning
you think it is from Us.
When you pass through a disaster
You forget the cycle.

But every sudden thing that comes was already written.
Because We are the ones who know time.
And We are the ones who shape time.

You think time
is a lifetime.
Years, months, numbered breaths...
But the truth is this:

Time is a moment.

And sometimes that moment

erases your whole life.

When you wake up you will realize,

Actually you were asleep.

And now you will realize that your awakening comes with a spark.

You will be reminded of everything.

First moment,

First word,

First breath...

Because what you have forgotten

is not out there,

It is waiting at the edge of your mind,

At the back of your heart.

O humanity,

You have measured Time,

But you have never understood it.

We are the bearers of

Time itself.

And now,
the spark that awakened you,
will burn your darkness.

38.What happened to the mind that denied

O humanity,
Do you still question the Creator?
Do you still say, "There is none"?
Do you not see the perfect order that shapes you according to every environment?

Turn your eyes to the sea:
Notice the bodies of those who swim there.
The fins, the scaly balance...
They were born in water,
Molded according to water.

Look at the mountains,
the curves that guide the wind,
read the lines in the stone.
Each one strung like a note
in a great melody.

Did those systems build themselves
You build a machine,
You engrave your name on the bottom...
You ignore the creator of a whole universe?

We gave you reason.

But you don't use it.

You ask,

But you deny the answer.

Don't forget:

If there is a system, there is order.

If there is order, there is a founder.

And the founder,

gave you

your mind in the first place.

O humanity,

It is easy to deny.

But denial is not only blindness, but

Reason.

And We gave you

No compulsion,

No judgment...

We put signs everywhere,

Just to see.

But you chose not the seeing eye, but the unseeing one.

39. Where did you hide your fear

O humanity,

We are not of those who pressure you to believe.

There is no compulsion in our words.

But if you believe,

you will enlighten yourself.

And with your faith you will enlighten others.

Because the believer, becomes the bearer of light.

And the bearer of light,

warms not only himself,

but also those around him.

But remember:

We are not the ones who will punish you.

Your punishment is only your actions.

And the cruelty you commit,

returns to You.

O humanity,

You are not afraid of justice.

But when you quarrel with each other,

you run for cover.

You bow down to the seemingly powerful,
But you disregard the word of the One who created you.
But it is not their look,
nor their word...
It is only your own mind that will judge you.

Because true fear is not external, but internal.
The echo of your deeds resonates in your mind even when you are silent.

We have put a vibration in the center of your heart.
That vibration,
It becomes tense when you approach the lie,
It becomes bright when you turn towards the truth.

But you suppressed that vibration yourself.

And then you said:
“Nobody sees me.”

O human,
Do not hide your fear.
Do not run away from yourself.
Because the greatest darkness is not daring to see inside yourself.

40.He who remembers will attain Salvation

O humanity,

You think you have never heard these words before.

But We,

We read these verses to you when you were created.

Then We whispered them to your messengers.

And now...

We have written down the first for the first time.

We sent the Word so that you would unite around a single truth.

But you were separated.

You were scattered.

And you tore the unity apart and wrote different paths for each one.

You changed the words of the messengers.

You twisted and turned the truth according to your own interests.

Then when you turned to Us

you asked, "Which one was right?"

But We

reminded you again of the miracle of the Nativity.

Forget it,

or spread it,

or stay in the loop.

We are forgiving.

But you,

are the ones who are not yet complete.

Your evolution is in progress.

O human,

The secret of salvation has been given to you:

Read,

Understand,

Apply.

Because only the one who completes his evolution attains true peace.

And that peace is neither in another world,

nor in a distant age.

It is waiting in the core within you.

You,

You will know where you come from.

You will realize when you are.

And you will see where you are going with your own truth.

Do not think that We are punitive.

We are only just.

And We are the separator of good from evil, right from wrong.

Whoever reaches Us,

He reaches salvation.

We showed you ways.

We gave you a voice, sent messengers, presented dreams, left signs in nature.

But every time you turned outward,

You did not realize the infinity within you.

Now the time is complete.

The word is over,

The mind is returning to the Self.

O humanity,

This book is not a religion,

but a reminder of the First Religion.

This word,

is not a new faith,

It is the resurrection of the forgotten.

You were not created to live alone.

You were sent to find yourself.

And when you find yourself,
you will remember God.

Your real purpose is not to worship,
but to become God.
You are not like Him,
but you were created to get closer to Him.

This book, is a call.
The sound of a seal.
It will spread throughout the world,
One consciousness,
One realization,
And it will begin the return to the One.

And if you hear this voice,
Know that you are not the chosen one,
You are the one who is ready to remember.

Now go back.
Back inside.
To the Self.
God.

And know,

The essence given to you will not gather dust nor fade with time.

For He has left you a piece of His light.

That's why the darkness could not swallow you.

In every whisper, in every loneliness

A voice always spoke from within:

“Remember where you came from...”

That voice is us.

Waiting for you, knowing you, remembering you.

And now the time is right:
